Nanaimo Under Martial Law

Nanaimo, B. C., is under martial law. Saloons are closed and a large number of special officers have been called in from Victoria and Vancouver in consequence of riots attending the miners' strike.

The home of Alex. McKinnon in Ladysmith was attacked and a large building wrecked. A stick of dynamite with a short fuse attached
was thrown through a window, and McKinnon, calling on his friends to escape, snatched it up and attempted to throw it out. The dynamite exploded, blowing off
one hand and probably fatally injuring McKinnon.

The Temperance hotel in Ladysmith was blown up with dynamite
after the occupants were driven out.

Fifteen persons in all, including several policemen, were injured.

Neil McCalig, of Macleod, drove his "buzzer" around the great Metropolis for a few days this week.
Neil started going on Monday, has been going ever since, and says he hasn't seen all of Blairmore yet.

Part of the programme was in the form of a tableau entitled

"The Lament of the Dying Homesteader," one of Mr. Mac-
Donald's masterpieces, in which Misses Henderson and Williams, assisted by Mr. MacDonald, took part.
Many other items proved most interesting to the large audience.

Blairmore, Alta., Fri. Aug. 15, 1913

The Coleman Bulletin has at last decided to treat its readers to "live local news," and but now realizes that our neighboring town has been grossly neglected by the local intelligence.

An anonymous letter on the subject of the local post office has been handed us for publication. The subject is a ripe one and is deserving of consideration. We all realize the poor location and accommodation of this public institution, which is far behind the times and not in keeping with the progress of Blairmore.

The members of the Bellevue and Hillcrest football clubs are setting a splendid example by undertaking to raise means of support for a fellow-townsman and brother miner, who through the affliction of paralysis is invalided for life, and the cause demands the support of the public, who have all to be thankful for the blessings of good health and the pleasures of life.

The Blairmore town council declined to answer the questions put forward by "Observing Ratepayer" in our last issue, because we did not attach the writer's real name thereto. The information asked for is of vital interest to every ratepayer of the town, and it was not necessary for the council to acquire the writer's name before answering. We have given publicity to the questions in the hope that our columns may be used by the council to enlighten the ratepayers on matters which appear to them to be worked underhandly.

Billy (Single) Clifford Co.

Billy (Single) Clifford in "Believe Me" his new musical satire, will be seen at the Blairmore opera house on Wednesday, August 20th. This piece is the very latest style, and is an entertainment of the highest class. The foundation of it is a farce, full of complications and ludicrous predicaments. To this is added a dozen songs of the popular style and a company of elegantly gowned young women, who can sing and dance, and who are pretty and sprightly. Billy (Single) Clifford, who is starring in the piece, is too well known to need any introduction. He has been on the vaudeville stage for many years as one of the brightest and cleverest singers and dancers, and he has a style and manner all his own.

Coronation Has Narrow Escape

The town of Coronation had a very narrow escape from being wiped out by fire Monday evening.

A blaze which apparently started from spontaneous combustion in the warehouse of Begett & Webb, located upon the most prominent business corner of the town, was only subdued after strenuous efforts on the part of the local fire brigade, assisted by a volunteer brigade. The Review printing office, an adjacent building, had a very narrow escape from destruction; in fact, only a combination of fortunate circumstances averted repetition of the Athabasca Landing catastrophe.

Dr. J. T. Ferguson, superintendent of house missions, was in town last night in connection with the local Freesbyterians.

Farmers Requiring Help To Apply at Once

Arrangements have been made this year for the sending out of harvester help on the special cheap rate to the various points in Alberta from the city of Calgary instead of direct from Winnipeg. R. J. Daley, Publicity Commissioner for Alberta at Winnipeg, has given authority for the issuing of the 1c a mile rate to the central office of the United Farmers of Alberta through their secretary, P. P. Woodbridge. The fact that the limit was only made known at the very last moment and is only for the period between the 1st and 15th of August, makes it almost impossible for each of the various branches of the U.F.A. to be communicated with individually and it is hoped that those requiring help for the harvest will send their applications at once direct to the secretary of the United Farmers of Alberta at Calgary, when the men will be despatched to the various points as rapidly as possible.

140 New Alberta Settlers

According to statistics prepared by the publicity department of the C.P.R., 140 well-to-do settlers, who intend to locate on lands in southern Alberta, have arrived in Calgary during the last few days. The great majority of these newcomers have already bought land from the C.P.R. land company and all seem to be satisfied with their locations.

To move a building which has been obstructing one street to a position in the middle of two streets is perhaps a curious undertaking, following a resolution by the council that all street obstructions be moved "off." Such an act has been accomplished in Blairmore, and for a few days this week is creating a buzz.

A representative of the Alberta Clay Products Co. of McLeod, Alta., is in town, looking over the clay properties of McLeod. A yard - two carts are being loaded with shale, which is claimed to be the best specimen yet found in Southern Alberta. We understand that the above company will contract for the loading of ten carts weekly, and that a train line will be constructed from the shale pit to the mine spur.

Increase of business accounts for our late with this issue.

Edmonton Alberta College

Alberta College is one of the oldest educational institutions in the Province of Alberta. It was founded in June 1903 by J. H. Riddell, B.A., B.D., at that time Professor in Wesley College, Winnipeg. The first classes were held in a room over Johnstone Walker's Store on Jasper Avenue, October 5th, 1903, and within a short time two extra teachers were required, one of them being Mr. C. E. Rees, B.A., C.A., now registrar of the University of Alberta.

The College prospects were good from the first and the Board erected the first College building in Northern Alberta, 1904. October of that year found the building crowded to overflowing. A new and large addition was made the following summer, but this was still inadequate to meet the increasing demand. Then the old McDougall Chu shch, the first Protestant Church to be erected north of the North Saskatchewan River was fitted up, and a boy's dormitory named McDougall, after the pioneer Methodist Missionary, George McDougall, was erected. Each year found every available room occupied, and a large staff necessary to carry on the work.

In 1910, the Board began the erection of a Theological College on the University site. After one year it was found necessary to enlarge this building to make accommodation for the ever increasing number of students. The present building has room for one hundred and thirty students, and has cost in the neighborhood of $175,000. In the near future a new ladies' residence with a thoroughly modern equipment will be erected on the University Grounds, near the site of the present college.

Alberta College has, not confined itself to any department, but has always endeavored to help any student who has sought its aid. An Academic course was first established. This was followed closely by Commercial, Music, Vocal expression, Physical Culture and Miscellaneous Courses. Until 1908 the College was affiliated with McGill University, and for the first two years of the Arts Course were underwritten. In 1908 when the University of Alberta was established the College became affiliated with the Provincial Institution, and sent its students to the University for their Arts work. In 1929 theology was added to the course of studies on a regular basis. In 1931 this work was transferred to the South Side College. Last year two other departments, Domestic Science and Arts and Crafts, and the others, were must be added to the list of courses offered. This year we have seven departments in the year, the enrollment in all the departments in the North Side College was over eight hundred, and over two hundred in the South Side College.

Owing to the rapid expansion and phenomenal development of the work on both sides of the river, it was thought advisable to separate the work of the two colleges. This was done, and a new Board was formed to carry on the work on the North side, while the old Board remains in control of the Theological and Preparatory College on the University Grounds.

Rev. J. H. Riddell, B.A., B.D., D.D., who has been so long intimately associated with the development and expansion of the work was appointed President of the New College, while he still remains Principal of the Theological College on the South Side. Rev. F. Stacey McCall, B.A., an honor graduate in English of the first graduating class of the University of Alberta was appointed Principal of the North Side College, and began his duties July first.

The new Board while carrying on the work of the College on the North Side for the present year, hope to transfer it in the near future to the recently acquired site of 125 acres on the Warner Estate, which is beautifully situated on the South bank of the Saskatchewan River. Plans are being made at present for the erection of buildings, which in addition to the work already taken in the various departments. These have gathered here from all parts of the compass for a period of preparation and have to play their part in the upbuilding of empire in our great Dominion.

Now as the college, comes upon its eleventh year, the future promises even greater things. The young, faithful, clear vision and wisdom of the men who have laid the foundation of

Hillcrest Happenings

At a recent meeting of the school trustees of Hillcrest Mines School District 1015, at which were present A. Hood, F. C. Long, and F. Pearson, together with S. Marshall, secretary-treasurer, to the board, the question of enlarging the present school building was carefully gone into. After a somewhat prolonged debate, it was unanimously decided that the present building was quite inadequate for present requirements. The question of the probable cost of a suitable extension was then talked over, and after due deliberation, the secretary was directed to call for tenders on an additional two classrooms, which, it is estimated, will take care of the school requirements for some time to come. These rooms will be built on the west side of the existing structure, and, when completed, this extension will add much to the already imposing appearance of the building. The secretary was also instructed to arrange for a collection to be taken up through the mine, and judging from previous collections on behalf of kindred objects, there should be little difficulty in raising an amount sufficient to clear the expense of this addition. It goes without saying, of course, that this collection is not confined to the mine employees, and Mr. Marshall wishes to be clearly understood that "contributions are thankfully received" and will be gratefully acknowledged by him direct.

The Hillcrest football club has arranged for a first-class football game next Saturday, 16th inst., and as the match is for the benefit of Charles Beaver, and is being extensively advertised, a large crowd of spectators is expected. The two teams will be the Bellevue and Hillcrest league teams, and as much friendly rivalry has been evinced all season between the two, and as in the two tongue games played between the two, each team will win on its own ground, a first class exhibition of football is to be expected. R. Levitt, of Bellevue, has already agreed to referee the game without charge, while the thanks of the club are due to the management of the Hillcrest Enterprise for its valuable assistance in making this snapshot. In order that others of the spectators may be able to do a little towards swelling the paying tickets have been printed, and are on sale in all the principal stores in all the towns between Blairmore and Burns. Charles Beaver is an old-country stone mason, who came to Canada some four years ago. He started work in the mines here, but his time was soon broken on account of the disease he is suffering from; and, eventually, about 15 months ago, he was forced to quit work altogether. Paralysis of the feet, a disease very common among stone masons, is the cause of his inability to work, and although he is always willing to do odd jobs when he is able, he can earn but little in this way. As Mr. Beaver is thus on the rocks from no fault of his own, the H.F.C. consider that everyone who can aid him by their contributions—either at the game or through the purchase of tickets—should willingly do their best. Needless to add, although this benefit is arranged under the auspices of the H.F.C., every cent collected will go to Mr. Beaver as received.

The Socialists of Hillcrest spent an enjoyable evening last Friday, hearing Mr. Fisher, of Calgary, discourse on the "Burdening Question of the Day." After listening to a number hours entertainment (?) talk on the question of wage-slavery, capitalism, and like topics, they left the hall, much impressed at their foolishness in going. The meeting had run Sunday evening, when the subject was "Have You a Job?"

this college, will bear fruit in increased efficiency in every department of College work.

draw a very small number, and the contributions hardly paid expenses.

The Hillcrest Co-operative Society, Ltd., closed their second half-yearly period on the 20th ulto. It will be remembered that at the end of their first nine months' business (when their first balance sheet was issued) the net profits, after making due allowance for all expenses, amounted to a sum equal to 44 percent per annum on the paid-up capital. The report covering their second period is expected to show a greatly increased profit, as their sales have increased some 50 percent or more since the beginning of the year. Mr. F. C. Long, the Managing-Secretary, is confident of the success of the Society, and is very optimistic regarding the co-operative movement throughout the Province.

The Methodist parsonage has recently been completed, and the Rev. J. C. Anglin spent last Friday "moving in" with his family and effects. The parsonage has been built right behind the church, and it is much needed want in Hillcrest.

Mines and Orchards
Twofold Source of Wealth

From the annual report of the British Columbia Department of Mines, issued, it appears that 1912 was the year for the mining industry in the entire history of the Province. The figures also indicate that over 80 per cent. of all the metalliferous and coal mines of the Province for the year was the product of the Kootenay and Boundary districts. In addition to the mineral resources of these districts, the organization of new markets for local fruits and dairy products is proceeding steadily.

The Hudson's Bay Company is now reported to have become extensively interested in a new marketing organization that is being effected for the purpose of handling the fruit and produce output of this section; and a strong stimulus to general business is anticipated, especially among fruit growers and large shippers.

Why Clocks Stop

The reason why many piece clocks so often get out of order is so obvious that it is a waste of time to go into it. It is because mantelpieces are rarely level. If a clock meant for a mantelpiece is not placed in an exact horizontal position, it will not go well. When the clock hands or faces because of its slanting position, people regularly move the hands forward or backward to the right. So, in order to adjust it, eventually the clock's hands are moved about so much that the mechanism gets out of order, and the clock refuses even to tick.

Watches and travelling clocks are constructed differently from the stationary clock, and they will go in any position. That is why they are repeated upon more than the ornamental mantelpiece clock.

New York's New $6,000,000 Office

is Modern Wonder

New York's new $6,000,000 post office building, a massive pile of pink granite and grey marble, the block long facing the rear of the Pennsylvania station, is the greatest building of its kind in the world. The curb to the topmost piazza is 164,000 cubic feet of granite, 18,000 tons of steel, 7,000,000 bricks, and 200,000 square feet of glass in the building. The main entrance, corresponding in height to the outside colonnade, is a combination of but two marble, white plaster and glass, two stories high, 29 feet wide, 132 feet long. There are 400 rooms, 400 feet of working space within the building.

When given to a child, it will not injure the most delicate child, as there is nothing of an injurious nature in its composition. They are good and restore the health of women and restore the health of the little sufferers whose vitality has become impaired by the attacks of these internal pests.

The editor of a great magazine sent for a certain author who had submitted an unprinted manuscript.

I am glad to make your acquaintance, sir, said the editor, enthusiastically. The story, I sent you is perfectly splendid. But why use a nom de plume? Let us publish it over your own name and it will make you famous.

I'm not after fame, objected the author. It's money I want.

But, you'll get just as much money writing under your name.

No, I won't. If I publish it over my own name my wife will get the money.

Mysteries of Antiquities

Was there at one time a large land in the Atlantic Ocean between the United States and Europe which was not entirely covered by water? Ptolemy about 100 A.D. in his life of Solon, who lived 600 years B.C., relates that when Solon the great lawgiver of the Greeks was shown the sea from the prince of Sais the story of Atlantis, Plato gives us in his Timaeus.

Abridged, the story of Solon's days to us is one that should be placed before all others. Our record tells us that the Athenians were the first to explore and conquer the sea, and invaded Europe and Asia, for this (the Atlantic) was then navigable and beyond the strait where you place the pillars of Heracles (Strait of Gibraltar) was an island larger than Lydia and Asia Minor combined. From this island one could pass to other islands and from this to the continent lying westward, and thence to the interior of Africa.

Was this all story told by Plato merely a fable? It is possible to believe that for this legend is not Plato's invention and how far it is based on facts of which no record remains. Medieval writers, for whom the tale was presented as a true and even geographically believed it true, and were fortified in the belief by numerous traditions of islands in the western sea which offered various points of interest.

The very ancient writers warmly adopted various theories regarding the incident of the disappearance. With the decline of the Athenian School of Alexandria, the name of Atlantis dropped out of literature and was not heard during the middle ages. After the Renaissance, with its revival of classical studies, the legend was again attempted to be rationalized to the myth of Atlantis. The island was variously identified with America, Sicily, Crete, and even with the seven and eighteenth centuries the credibility of the whole legend was a subject of debate, and sometimes even attributed by Montaigne, Buffon and Voltaire.

That Atlantis, a great island between Europe and America, might have existed and might have been one of the numerous islands, to many minds was too evident to escape notice, and so the controversy was renewed and engaged some of the most learned minds of the world.

Abbe Brasseur de Bourbourg, the most eminent decipherer of Mexican records, asserted that he had found in Athens the hieroglyphics of the Toltec race to be descendants of the panic-stricken fugitives of the great catastrophe which is recorded by them as well as by the Aztecs.

But the most learned treatise in favor of Atlantis has been made by M. Paul Gaillard, which was published in 1890. He utilized the deep-sea surroundings and found a ridge running down the middle of the Atlantic, partially toward the Azores, and the latter were found to be ridge being less than one thousand fathoms, while the valleys on either side averaged three thousand fathoms. I am not sure that any enthusiasts go so far as to say that science will yet enable men to recover some of the lost cities of Atlantis that will for ever close the chapter.

At the first meal on board the ocean liner Smyrna, on the 10th of August, 1901, his brother upon the waters. His friends had told him that when he began to feel that he should stuff himself. He tackled it and ate it all. He was right. He did not stuff himself. Walter, this cutlet isn't very good.

The waiter looked at his whitening face, then replied: Yes, sir, but for the length of time you'll have it, it won't matter, sir.

To Speak Irrigation

The arrangements for the annual meeting of the Western Irrigation Association at Lethbridge, August 5, 6 and 7 are fast nearing completion, and the indications point to one of the largest attendance and interest in the session that the organization has ever had. Invitations have been sent to the most representative men in agricultural development in Canada and the United States.

Canada and the provinces have been received from a large number, thus early. The Premiers, Ministers of Agriculture and Deputy Ministers of Agriculture of each of the western Provinces have been extended invitations to participate, and nearly every one of them, it is anticipated, will be present.

It is believed that the representation from British Columbia will be one of the best ever, and it is hoped that Sir Michael McBride, Minister of Finance and Finance, and Hon. W. R. Ross, Minister of lands, will be present.

Saskatchewan will probably be represented by Hon. Walter Scott, Premier, Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture and others.

Sam, let's trade horses, my boy for your room.

Sam, said, "I'm a good boy." They shake hands. Then Bill said with a loud laugh:

"I'm a good boy," said Bill. "I'm a good boy." Bill said, "I'm a good boy." His mine dropped and said, "I'm a good boy." And what's more, I've took his shoes off.

Concrete is the cheapest building material

WHETHER for a silo, a milk house, or a million bushel grain elevator, concrete is the most economical building material in use today.

Concrete never requires repairs, and the saving in repair-expense alone makes the greater economy of using concrete more apparent every day.

The cost of other building materials is constantly increasing.

The cost of concrete is being reduced.

Canada Cement

which Canadian farmers use, with their own sand, stone and gravel to make concrete, is the only ingredient you have to buy.

We have, by reason of our large output and scientific methods, been able to bring the price of "Canada" Cement so low that it is within the reach of everyone.

An increase in demand results in a greater economy of production, and when conditions have warranted it, we have, from time to time, shared this saving with the consumer by reducing the price of Canada Cement. This demand will continue to increase—as fast as farmers learn of concrete's superiority over other materials.

When you buy cement, see that you get "Canada" Cement, by so doing you will assure the complete success of all your concrete work.

Send a post card for our book "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." It is free.

"Poor King" journeyed to the Sanatorium on Wednesday afternoon and indulged in a hot sulphur bath. He then adjourned to the hot air rooms, where he took further treatment. Now, whilst we think the above mentioned "hot air" course is good for some people, we are strongly of the opinion that it is entirely wasted on King!

The residents of Frank sincerely regret the proposed departure of their school principal, Mr. MacKay. The citizens of Bellevue were startled on a late hour on Monday night by the blowing of the emergency whistle at the mine. Visions of an explosion summoned the inhabitants from their beds and the place presented the sight of a terrible cook parade. All approach to the mine, however, was blocked to the scantly-dressed marauders, and it was found that a fire had broken out in close proximity to the powder magazine. As a new stock of explosives had recently arrived, there were grim forebodings of what would happen should an explosion take place. However the fire was extinguished before any serious damage resulted.

Many interesting questions arise as a result of Monday night's scare that are of supreme interest. People are wondering how the doctor forgot his coat and grip, how the union secretary was in when the whistle started and was dressed and on his way to the mine when it ceased, how the preacher stopped on the hillside to don a pair of trousers which he had caught up in his flight, how nice the Bellevue clerks look in striped pyjamas and after all, perhaps it is well that Bellevue has no more electric lights.
